Easy Steps for your Clean-up Sale

Step 1: Pick a place and time when the most people are likely to pass by. If you don't know, ask store managers about their busiest times.

Step 2: Stock up! Have plenty of cookies and take orders if you run out.

Step 3: Advertise! It pays. Get the girls involved. Brainstorm ways to attract customers to your Clean-up Sale. Decorate with posters, goal charts, photos of troop activities, balloons, cookie boxes...Hang posters ahead of time announcing your sale. Post arrows directing people to your location.

Step 4: Recruit adult help. It's important to have enough grown-ups present to ensure the safety of the girls (at least two adults). It's also important that adults don't take over.

Step 5: Be prepared. Think of fun ways to practice selling and telling customers about the troop's plans and goals. Brush up on money-handling skills. Review safety rules.
