Horse Camp at Stevens Ranch

Discover the joy of working with horses at Stevens Ranch! Backed by more than 40 years of horse program experience, our program helps girls build confidence, independence and responsibility while forming meaningful connections with horses.

From learning to groom and saddle a horse to recognizing its body language and building trust, campers discover that horsemanship is about more than riding. Every new skill brings a sense of accomplishment, while caring for horses teaches patience, empathy and respect. Whether they're first-time riders or growing their abilities, girls leave with new skills, lasting friendships and the confidence that comes from discovering what they're capable of.

Register for the session corresponding to your Girl Scout level. Campers of varying riding experience will participate together, with activities adapted to their skill levels.
